The Cyclone in Lewis County.

The cyclone on the evening of the 26th inst., passed over the southwestern part of Lewis county and proved very destructive. Mr. Robert Taylor, who had the opportunity to make observations, says that two warm currents of air passed to the northwest and a cold one came from that direction meeting at Mr. Amos Means' farm and from there passed to the southeast. Another person says that the storm broke while the family of Mr. Means were at supper. One of the children who heard a curious rumbling sound, remarked that "the cars were coming." On going to the door a large funnel shaped cloud was observed to be passing which left a smoky and dirty trail. Several witnesses concur as to this cloud bounding along the ground and measuring in width from one to three hundred yards. There was no wind or rain attending its passage. It seemed to be the advance guard of the furious storm that followed.

In a twinkling Mr. Means' barn was demolished killing Mambrino King a noted stallion valued at $500, and a fine Spanish jack worth about $300. The orchard was instantly uprooted and a large amount of fencing swept away. Sheriff Wilson, and others who inspected the damage, estimate Mr. Means' loss at from $1,500 to $2,000.

The dwelling of Mr. James Bivens was totally destroyed. Even the heavy stone chimneys were blown down and the fragments of the house carried over the mountains. Beds, bedding, and other articles lodged in the tops of the high trees. One report says that the roof of the house dropped in Capt. Dick Thomas' yard one mile away.

An old distillery and barn near by met a similar fate, but the saddest feature of the whole was the injury received by Mrs. Bivens. She had both legs and her left arm broken. Dr. Taylor who is attending her says she cannot survive. The other members of the family were more or less injured. They are now homeless and destitute. A subscription was taken up for their benefit and a liberal sum of money raised.

A fine barn belonging to John Applegate also went down before the fury of the storm. His crop of tobacco stored in the building was carried away and lost.

Turner Rayburn had two good barns destroyed and lost his entire crop of tobacco.

On the track of the cyclone were found many birds, squirrels, rabbits etc., that had been killed by the force of the winds. From the Cabin Creek valley the storm rose to the Kinny hills, and on the Salt Lick ridges houses, barns, timber and fencing were carried away or leveled to the ground. The loss is great in many places.

LATER.

Information received this morning announces the death of Mrs. Bivens yesterday, and also that a little girl named Dwyre was killed by the destruction of a house on Kinniconick Creek. It is feared the disaster is much more serious and the destruction more widespread than reported.

REV. S. B. ALDERSON preaches at the chapel to-morrow morning and evening. Morning subject—Idolatry.

THE White Collar Line of steamers has notified their men of a reduction of wages, to take effect May 1st. The reduction is as follows: Captains and head clerks, $35; pilots, $25; engineers, $10; watchmen and mates, $10 each, per month.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mr. Sam. Smith has returned from a flying visit to Covington, strictly on business.

Miss Lutie Collier and Miss Lida Johnson, of Millersburg, are the guests of Mrs. B. F. Johnson.

Mr. J. C. Lovell, of East Maysville, has removed to the dwelling lately occupied by George Hancock.

Down They Go.

Meaning the prices of job printing. The following low rates will hereafter rule at the BULLETIN Job Printing Rooms. They are the lowest ever offered in this city by any printing establishment. The reduction does not mean careless printing and inferior stock, but on the contrary first-class press work and composition and the best quality of material:

Bill Heads per ream	$5.00
Letter Heads per ream	1.50
Packet Note Heads per ream	2.00
Commercial Note Heads per ream	2.75
Envelopes per thousand	3.00
Visiting Cards, fifty	25c

And other printing at proportionately low prices.
